Town Council Meet

A delegation was present at the Council meeting on Tuesday night, representing the Community Council, and reporting to the Town on the operation of the Skating Rink last winter and the Swimming Pool this summer. In both cases, the Community Council had offered to provide supervision, and supervise general operations, but it was understood that any capital expenditure remained the part of the Town.

Mr. McMurray, chairman of the delegation reported that the Community Council had managed fairly well to date, but that all their means had been stretched and then asked the treasurer, Ian MacKenzie, to give a financial statement.

Mr. MacKenzie, in his report, showed that sales of season tickets had in no wise covered cost of operation. Total tickets sold amounted to approximately $350, while expenses ran up to $850. Part of the difference had been covered through donations, he informed the Council, and part through work of various sections of the Community Council.

Following the report, considerable discussion ensued, and after looking at many angles, Council decided that had the Town run the two affairs, the deficit would have been greater, and voted $350 to the Community Council to balance the deficit. It was felt generally that the Community Council was better fitted to supervise such sporting activities than was the Town. A vote of thanks was given the Community Council for their interest in supervision of the rink and swimming pool, and for the extensive work they had done.

A query was received by W. S. McNeill on the likelihood of the water system running so far as his property, and after studying the maps, Council reported that that area had been left out of the initial proposal. It was felt, however, that the school would likely want water, and that, should the mains run to the school, Mr. McNeill could tie in satisfactorily. A check will be made on the above matter, including estimated cost of mains beyond Sixth Street, and further action taken at the next meeting.

The financial statement showed $6400, with a greater percentage of taxes paid this year than was so at the time last year. The police report was read, showing three convictions in the previous period.

It was reported that the Siren was now fixed and would be operating in the near future. Apparently its ab-

IN APPRECIATION

Mr. and Mrs. John MacKenzie appreciate most sincerely the warm welcome and generous hospitality extended to them on every side, during their visit to their former home in Strathmore.

The days were not sufficient in number to permit of their accepting several invitations which they would have gratefully accepted.

To all they express their warmest gratitude for the kindness extended and their best wishes for continued happiness.

King Edward Safe Robbed

Why Did Churchill Lose?

A Visitor's Opinion

John MacKenzie, Rothesay, Scotland.

Recently in the Standard Mr. John MacKenzie, first editor and owner of this Newspaper, gave his impressions of Strathmore and its surrounding district as it appeared to him after twenty-one years absence.

At the conclusion he said he might attempt later to explain to our readers some of the aspects of the political and economic set-up in Britain which seems to be some what mystifying to Canadians. "One question asked by many Canadians was," he says, "Why Britain failed to return Winston Churchill, the country's great war leader, to power in 1945? The home electors as a whole, irrespective of party, respect, and it might be said, almost revere Churchill but they did not vote for his party, and therefore he is no longer at the helm of the Ship of State, though as leader of the opposition his influence is still great. The main reason for the election result in 1945 and for the fact that since then the Labor Government has not lost a bye-election despite the hard blows, circumstances have dealt the country, is in my opinion, that the Conservative Party had no policy then, and do not have one yet.

The ordinary Briton remembers the unemployment which prevailed even in the best trade years, between the wars, and the existence of undeserved poverty in the midst of plenty.

The Labor Party came forward with a detailed programme of the steps they intended to take to prevent this occurring again. In contrast, the Conservatives did not propose any remedies for prewar conditions but

WEDDING

COTTERILL—MACLEOD

A very pretty wedding of much interest to Strathmore residents also took place, when Miss MacLeod was solemnized in Scarborough Avenue United Church, Calgary, at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, September 18, when Miss Iris Jessa MacLeod, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Munroe MacLeod, exchanged marriage vows with Mr. Melvin James Cotterill, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cotterill of East Coulee Alberta, in a double ring, candle light ceremony, the Rev. S. J. Parsons, pastor of the church, officiating. The altar of the church was very artistically decorated with baskets of purple asters, dahlias, ferns and a profusion of lovely gladioli in shades of pale and deeper pink, white and yellow. Preceding the ceremony Mr. Frank Ward of Edmonton sang The Lord's Prayer in excellent voice accompanied at the organ by Capt. S. Hinton. Ushers were Messrs R. Rosser and A. Parry.

Promptly at 7:30 strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March pealed forth from the organ announcing the arrival of the wedding party.

The pretty bride was very winsome and lovely as she proceeded up the aisle on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She wore an exquisite Elizabethan Style dress of white satin brocade slightly on train with lily point sleeves and side bustles and full length veil of lovely Nottingham lace fastened in a period coronet of beaded lacework. Her only ornament was a single string of beautifully graded Delta Oriental Pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty roses and fern.

Miss Elva Robison and Miss Leona Cotterill, sister of the groom, were the Social service plays a large part such as hospital visiting, contacting isolated white settlers and the foreigners in our midst and the establishing of hostels. A new and pleasing gesture is that of regularly sending reading matter and writing materials to our German sisters in the Ruhr valley, and food parcels to certain of the clergy in England and their families known to be suffering from malnutrition.

Farmer's Column

by R. J. MILLIGAN

Last year a Junior Potato Club was formed in the Strathmore area. This club is still going strong and will have a large quantity of Foundation "A" seed potatoes for next spring.

I am glad that this seed will be available because Bacterial Wilt or Bacterial Ring Rot is present in some fields of commercial potatoes in the Strathmore area. This is the most severe disease that can invade a seed growing area. Please be careful what potatoes you plant next spring. Be sure your seed is disease free, at least free from Bacterial Ring Rot. This applies to town, village or the farms.

This disease can be spread by the use of infected machinery, old potato a.c.s., rubber boots that have been used in infected fields, cutting knives, root cellars, wagons or trucks. In fact it is more contagious than small pox or any other human disease. The potatoes grown on these infected fields are good to eat but are not fit for seed under any condition. If we are to keep this district as a seed growing area we will require the cooperation of every citizen in the area. It doesn't make any difference if you only plant five potatoes in your back yard or plant 20 acres of commercial potatoes, please use good seed and by good seed I mean disease free seed. The farmers of this area have the type of soil, and irrigation on which to grow seed potatoes. Do you, through your carelessness, want to deprive them of this privilege?

Fortunately we have found that a 3% formaldehyde solution can be used to disinfect planting and digging machinery in addition to cutting knives and root cellars. The sterilizing is necessary even with disease free seed because your crop can become contaminated by not taking the precautions to disinfect. Don't lend your potato machinery unless you sterilize it immediately after use is returned.

Bacterial Ring Rot can not live over winter in the soil except a diseased potato survives the winter frost. It was thought at one time that irrigation water spread this disease but now realize that it is by contact with diseased stock or implements. Therefore, deep fall plowing is recommended for land that is to be planted to potatoes next spring and in this way help to sterilize your soil. Do not plant potatoes in a field that had diseased potatoes in it this year. In fact it isn't a good policy to plant potatoes immediately after potatoes.

I solicit everybody's cooperation when planting next spring.

United Church Cavalcade to be In Calgary

Planning for the United Church of Canada Cavalcade when it reaches Calgary on October 17th was the main item of business at the United Church Presbytery meeting held in Morley last Tuesday.

The Cavalcade is touring the Dominion and during its four day stay in Calgary it will bring to the people by means of exhibits, pictures, personages, and thrilling speakers the story of the work of the Church at home and abroad. Plans are under way to accommodate large crowds at the rallies and services of the Cavalcade's Calgary stop.

Rev. A. A. Hamilton and Mr. W. Layercraft were the Strathmore delegates to the Presbytery meeting which was held this time at the United Church Indian Residential School at Morley. This commodious and well equipped Mission and School carries on the work begun by Rev. George MacDougal in the days when the west was young and is one of the many mission projects which the United Church of Canada has established.

At the close of the afternoon's business the members of the Ministerial Wives Association served tea to the Presbytery delegates. Mrs. A. A. Hamilton journeyed to Morley with the other members of the Association to take part in this pleasant addition to the days activities.

CANADA'S ESTIMATED APPLE YIELD LOWER THAN 1946

The anticipated Canadian apple yield for 1947 of about 15 million bushels is 22 per cent below the 19,282,000-bushel crop of 1946. Estimates for British Columbia and Nova Scotia point out a decrease of about 20 per cent, whereas a substantial increase is forecast for Ontario.

THE UNITED NATIONS

The ears of the world are on the radio these days as reports of the deliberations being carried on at Flushing Meadows, New York, are broadcast. Seriously minded men are to discuss some of the most momentous and far reaching problems that have ever faced a group of people. Behind the men meeting in conference are the thousands of people "back home" who are following the debate with an anxiety that words cannot picture. A heated word this way or that might speed doom for an amicable settlement. Whatever force Public Opinion can exert, coupled with the prayers of the thousands of the people of the various nations, desiring peace should be given in full measure.

The Ancient Seven Wonders

In Ancient days the populace then gloried in their "Seven Wonders of the World." Today among many other surprising achievements we hold our breath as we read of going down 13,000 feet into the deep waters—or flying a plane pilotless across the Atlantic, having only as power control, a robot.

Why Did Churchill Lose

contented themselves with appeals "Vote for Churchill the Man Who Won the War," and similar slogans coupled with violent abuse of the Labour Party, which strangely enough, after five years of coalition government in which the Labour leaders had provided some of the ablest men.

Lord Beaverbrook has been blamed for advising Churchill to rush the election and fight it on his war record, and on abuse of his opponents, but the Press Lord denies this.

To-day apart from Churchill himself, Anthony Eden and Lord Woolton, the opposition is very weak and is not all of one mind.

Some months ago the Party published for the first time a programme entitled "The Industrial Chapter." The die hard Conservatives raised so much opposition to it that it was nearly as Socialist as the Labour Party's programme and it has been dropped.

On the other hand the Labour Party has, in spite of immense difficulties arising out of the after math of war and of an exceptionally severe winter fulfilled its election pledges by carrying through a huge programme of legislation most of it controversial.

The dollar exchange situation is the latest of Britain's worries, but there are heartening features. Unemployment is at a minimum; production is well ahead of the 1938 level; and within a couple of years the country should benefit by the huge schemes for opening up new and modern coal pits, and developing hydro power resources. There is no doubt that the Old Country will pull through successfully as it has done in the past, and will probably lead the world in the utilization of expanded production to the benefit of the mass of the people.

Criticism they do not mind, but they do resent the predictions of the prophets of doom.

sence had caused much comment and the lack of the noon blast was felt keenly, it was reported.

It was agreed that the three lots between Risdon's Machine Shop and Harvey Potter's be sold to Louis LaPier as a site for a home.

An application to use a vacant lot on Main Street to show farm machinery was turned down.

Arrangements were made to check into the possibilities of obtaining pipe materials from nearby military installations for the Town's water and sewer system.

Permission was given the C.N.E.B. to hold a tag day for the Blind on Sept. 20.

It was agreed that the rubbish pile on the north road be burned in the near future. This was for slashing from the trees only, and not intended to replace the nuisance grounds.

The hockey clubs will be approached to see how they feel about replacing the fence on the north side of the skating rink, when the curling rink is moved. It was agreed that its main value is to prevent spectators from watching hockey games free.

WEDDING

bride's attendants, Miss Robison chose for the occasion a beautiful blue dress of marquisette over blue satin with ruffled skirt and she carried an exquisite bouquet of pink gladioli. Miss Cotterill's dress was of peach shade and made on similar lines. Her bouquet was also of beautiful gladioli. Mr. Richard Cotterill was best man for his brother.

The bride's mother wore a very smart gown of grey crepe with grey trim black hat and long white gloves. A corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. Cotterill chose for the occasion an aqua and black crepe dress with black accessories and white gardenias.

Following the ceremony made impressive by Rev. Parsons during the signing of the register Mr. Ward sang very effectively, "Through the Years."

The bridal party and guests all repaired to the Harris Sky Room, where the reception was held and felicitations extended.

Places were laid for one hundred guests at flower decked tables where a choice Turkey dinner was much enjoyed and a happy social atmosphere prevailed.

Rev. Parsons was toast master and humorously requested the following toasts to the bride, proposed by Mr. R. M. Young, Canmore, responded to by the groom, who in turn proposed a toast to the bridesmaids responded to by Mr. Richard Cotterill. To the bride's mother, proposed by Mr. Geo. Wilson, Calgary, responded to by the bride's father. To the groom's mother proposed by Mr. P. Ramsay of Calgary responded to by the groom's father.

Following some witty comments by Rev. Parsons an impromptu dance followed the bride and groom leaving later for Kelowna where a brief honeymoon will be spent, the groom having to report at the University of Alberta Tuesday, September 23.

The bride donned for travelling a most becoming tailored suit of brown gairdine with model hat in fawn shade trimmed with pheasant feathers, a cherry colored blouse and a corsage of red roses.

The bride attended school in Strathmore some four or five years during her parents residence here, and has many friends in the community who will unite with others in extending all good wishes for a very happy future for herself and her husband.

The happy couple were the recipients of a large and beautiful number of presents among them being a chaste walnut Coffee Table from the Board of The Wheatland School Division, and a lovely silver Untree Dish from the Strathmore Sublocal of the A.T.A.

In an effort to help out ratepayers and at the same time help to clean up the Town, it was agreed that the town trailer and tractor be rented to anyone to carry away rubbish at the rate of $2.00 per load. The outfit will be the town man, however, in order to obviate possible troubles over break downs, and the rubbish must be loaded by the renter.

Accounts to the amount of $99.00 were passed.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Few men realize how much a good memory can help them succeed in their jobs.

So often I hear a man shamelessly admit, "I have a terrible memory." Always these individuals seem to convey the impression that this was just an unlucky accident of birth.

The truth is that although some people do have naturally retentive minds, anyone can improve his memory to a remarkable degree. To do so, of course, takes extra effort. But the rewards are many and important.

At any time you may be able to supply some important person with an exact fact or figure, and by such a simple act suddenly gain new prestige. In many other ways a good memory equips you for progress and builds self-confidence.

Modern psychology has much to teach on methods of memory-training that may help you. But even if you merely concentrate on remembering you'll become a more efficient and valuable worker.

Here is a fact to remember: The Life Insurance companies in Canada invest over 250 million dollars yearly in developing industries and aiding government projects, thus promoting the economic and social welfare of the nation.

WINTER PROTECTION OF SMALL FRUITS

Winter protection is essential for the successful growing of small fruits in Southern Alberta because the area is generally affected by thawing Chinook winds followed by severe freezing. Experience has shown that even good tree belts do not afford enough protection and a covering of soil or straw is needed as well. If proper and timely winter protection is employed every prairie garden can produce an abundant supply of small fruits, which are comparable in quality to the varieties grown in milder, less rigorous areas.

The fruits that require protection most are raspberries and strawberries. Strawberries will sometimes come through without a winter covering but raspberries never have at this Station. Certain varieties need to be covered during severe winters. Currants on the other hand are generally quite hardy and are able to withstand our winters without protection.

The method of protecting strawberries used at this Station is to cover them with a four to six-inch layer of straw. Pea straw is preferred because, being coarse, it is sometimes a little more free from seed. Any straw is satisfactory but year old material is better than freshly threshed straw as the weed seeds have had a chance to germinate. If the strawberry bed is somewhat exposed to the wind the straw cover may be held in place by the use of some brush, chicken wire, boards, etc. Stable manure should not be used. Strawberries may mildew or heat if covered too early and best results have been obtained by applying the straw covering after the ground is frozen and a layer of snow covers the plants. This generally is done about mid December in Southern Alberta.

With raspberries a layer of moist soil 3 to 4 inches deep has given best results. Straw will not do because of its light weight. The canes are bent down and completely covered with soil. Gooseberry canes are left upright and moist soil is mounded up around them to a depth of about 18 to 20 inches. Experience has shown that raspberries and gooseberries should be covered about the 20th of October. In many years a short cold spell occurs toward the end of October which may severely affect the plants. In other years mild autumn weather prevails which may permit delay in covering until the middle of November.

were opened by a celebration of the Holy Communion in the pro-Cathedral Calgary, with Bishop Ragg as celebrant assisted by the Principals of the Indian Residential schools. At various periods throughout the heavy business sessions were honoured by most inspiring addresses from the Bishop of Calgary, the Bishop of Moncton, Dr. Benson, Dean Smye, Canon Macdocks and Archdeacon Axon, all of Calgary; Canon House of Old Sun School, Gleichen, Canon Middleton of the Blood Reserve, Cardston, Dr. Watts, travelling secretary of the Missionary Society in the west; Dr. Florence Haslam of Kangra, India.

Mrs. Wodehouse of Ottawa, the President, faithfully took the chair at every session. Her clear brain showed a thorough grasp of every phase of work, so one felt complete confidence in her leadership. Mrs. Wodehouse emphasized strongly, as did every speaker and every officer in her report, that Prayer is the foundation of every W.A. effort. A practical result is that of over 250,000 dollars passing through the Treasurer's books in the last six months.

There were light moments when peals of laughter rang out, and much
